

Epoxy Lined Pipe & Tanks

Epoxy Lined Pipe & Tanks for Outstanding Resistance for a Wide Range of Chemicals

Since 1958 Protective Coatings has been dedicated to service and committed to applications of high performance coatings and linings. Our knowledge and experience enables us to select and apply the product that is best suited to meet your protection requirements.

We are by no means limited to proficiency in any specific product. Proco applies a wide range of high performance coatings. The most important part of any protection system is surface preparation. Our success is attributed to our surface preparation expertise.

Here are a few of the products which we can provide:
